Dedication to Elaine Beal

Elaine Beal came to Rutland High School in 2004 and has been with us as the Family Consumer Studies Teacher for 19 years. She is a dedicated teacher who loves to teach her students valuable life skills.

When you think of Mrs. Beal, it is synonymous with never-ending kindness. I asked students and staff what they thought, and every person I asked had the same things to say. They said that she is kind even during hard times and she was kind when it was not needed or required. She has been called an unspoken hero because of her plethora of kind acts that I have heard about. With the amount of praise she has received, she rightfully deserves that title. However, I don't think you can call Mrs. Beal an unspoken hero, instead she should be called Rutland High School's hero. For this reason, we dedicated this year book to Mrs. Beal.

Farewell to Carolyn Ravenna

Carolyn's colleagues say that she has been the best mentor, colleague and friend. Her passion for her work runs deep as she is a dedicated educator who personally cares deeply about her students. There is no bigger advocate for children than Carolyn. She is always personally and professionally supportive and caring. Carolyn started unified sports here at RHS and helped build it to what it is today. Because of her, RHS was recognized by ESPN as a National Unified Champion School and given a banner to hang up in the gym. Carolyn is responsible for enriching the lives of 100's of RHS Special Olympic athletes in many life-changing ways by giving them a chance to compete in sports. Carolyn Ravenna has devoted her life to helping others; 10 years at Rutland Mental Health and 29 years at Rutland City Public Schools as a Special Educator. She will be missed by students, teachers, parents, and para educators alike.

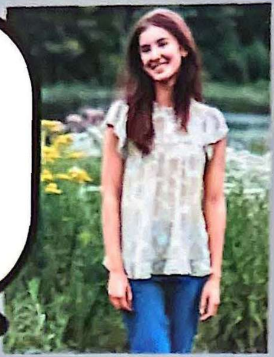
Jillian Perry
Jillian's favorite memory at RHS is the pre-season morning workout spirit week for field hockey.



Jermaine Buffum
In 10 years, Jermaine wants to be alive and to be a teacher.

Kayla Beaudry
The hardest part of high school for Kayla was remote learning during Covid.

Josie Muro
The homecoming football game is what Josie is going to miss most about RHS.

Jamisyn Baker
Jamisyn's biggest goal after graduating high school is to be successful, rich and famous.

Carol Baker, Site Coordinator and Rebecca Badgley, Program Assistant

Come Alive Outside

Advisor: Christian Rudy

Finding joy in nature can be done in many different ways. Whether you want to hike, sit under a tree and journal, learn survivor skills, do art inspired by the outdoors, learn to cook over a campfire, and/or do something else awesome in nature, we are here for it. In this club, you decide together the activities you will do!

Volleyball

Advisors: Blake Mechtel and Madeline Pritchard

Volleyball Club welcomes students of all skill levels. If you ask any of our volleyball teammates about our program they would describe our club as fun, inclusive, an escape, hilarious, energetic, and slightly competitive (healthy competition).

Health and Wellness

Advisor: Caitlin Sartor

Health and Wellness is all about having fun while learning valuable life lessons at the same time. Those who are involved get to do fun and exciting activities a couple hours per week. The club's goal is having fun, being productive and understanding the 4 categories of the wellness wheel - Emotional, Physical, Social, and Environmental.

2022/23

Intro to Rugby

Advisor: Casey Giordano

Intro to Rugby is all about learning the basic skills of the incredible sport known as Rugby. In this activity, those involved will be learning about ball handling, rules, fitness and videos. Although no physical contact with others will be happening, students will learn tactical strategies and works of play. Some significant goals of this club are teamwork, communication, fair play, and fitness.

Ceramics and Mixed Media

Advisor: Elizabeth McReynolds

Students that are in Ceramics and Mixed Media will gain and expand their knowledge of how to build 3-dimensional forms. There will be usage of a variety of techniques to build both functional and sculptural objects. The many materials used include low and high fire clay, glazes, plaster, wire, paper, and paper mache. Anyone can join; its lots of fun!!

Tutoring

Tutors: Mike Ellis, Michele Farkas, Ellada Siliski, Brett Lertola & Melissa Patterson

EPIC offers tutoring 4 mornings and 3 afternoons each week in math, science and history. Students are welcome to come in for help with homework assignments, upcoming tests, test corrections, or just to get a little extra help and support. Student tutors are also available on Wednesdays and Thursdays in math and science.

Farewell to Marsha Cassel

Marsha Cassel has had an incredible way of connecting with her students. She shared her immense passion for world language teaching with her students and opened many doors for them. Everyday she would create a comfortable atmosphere in her classroom that would encourage her students to participate freely while acquiring a second language. Marsha excited her students to embark on language learning beyond the classroom. She shared and connected her students to the history and culture of the countries that she introduced to them. Her humor, patience, kindness and optimism always helped guide her students to become global learners. Marsha was a great and avid contributor to Rutland City Public Schools and her work bringing the GIN Conference to RHS every year has been amazing. She has definitely left a mark on the RHS World Language Department. She will be so missed. Good luck in your future endeavors!

DEDICATION

Maureen Schillinger

Maureen Schillinger was dedicated to nurturing children. Professionally, as a classroom teacher, guidance counselor, tutor, paraeducator and school psychologist, she remained committed to helping students develop independence and success.

Maureen first joined RCPS in 2013 supporting and encouraging RHS students for 5 years before beginning her role as a school psychologist with Rutland City Public Schools. With every position and each responsibility, Maureen remained true to her ideal of meeting every student's needs, in a way that best suits each individual. Her positive rapport and established relationships with students helped her to discover their strengths so that their challenges could be overcome. Maureen's patient and supportive nurturing helped many students become more independent, develop a stronger work ethic and find success at school and in the community.

Maureen's quick wit and sense of humor were appreciated by all. She was able to make others smile, no matter the circumstances, with sarcasm on point and delivered without skipping a beat! She gave many students, colleagues and friends countless opportunities to laugh.

While Maureen's career was important to her, there was nothing she cherished more than her family. She was an incredible mother who modeled for her children the importance of hard work, high standards, and big goals; but also the need to not take yourself too seriously while pursuing them.

Our community has been blessed to feel the compassion, strength, sense of humor and care of Maureen. She is missed more than these words could ever relay.
